Lloyd-Greaves proposes to either get the taxes or promote temperance.

Exit Madam Cailaux. The flicks were has something else to talk about.

The Belgians are getting back toward home; not very fast, but all the same.

The life of D. R. Wilkie is another reminder that there is room at the top—for the man who has it in him to get there.

The abuse of Alderman Clarke is the last testimony any candidate should want as to his ability and respectability. The candidate he praises is thereby put under suspicion of being either a fool or an accomplice.

The ratepayer will get from next year's council what he votes for next month. If he wants a city that will be fit for his family to live in and whose business will be efficiently managed, he must elect to the council men whose known character and ability is the guarantee of these things. If he does not vote for such men his memory will tell him what he has to expect.

When the British House of Commons met last week it was found that some hundred and forty members, more than a fifth of the whole, were absent on military duty. The people in the Old Lands are taking the war seriously, and their Government is giving them every opportunity to enrich their interest list. Is the same true of the people and Government of Canada? It ought to be.

A Dutch paper proposes that the United States and Holland entente peace. The proposal will hardly lead to anything at present.
The Allies are prepared to make peace, but only on terms which will free Europe from the menace of predatory militarism and guarantee Holland and other small countries from the fate of Belgium. Those terms the Kaiser and his Sultanic ally will not accept until they have to, and they are not yet by a long way convinced that they have to.

In the official language of Berlin, when a German army "beats it" for home for two solid weeks with the enemy at its heels, the operation should be described as "without definite decision." But that isn't exactly the way Berlin reported the retreat of the Russians from East Prussia a couple of months ago; nor the retreat of the Allies to the Marne. In fact, a deeply prejudiced man might suspect that the Berlin general staff is noticeably nervous about telling the German people candidly what has been happening to its long-nursed plans for conquering all creation.

Mark Hambourg, the Russian pianist, has been awarded $2,500 damages against the London Daily Mail because it called him a German. In violating Germany's treaty obligations and respecting to barbarism in Britain the German war machine has made it a legally recognized object of force to call a foreigner a subject of the Kaiser. That is one measure of the irreparable injury the war-makers at Berlin have done to German people the world over and to the German nation. It is in the interest of Germany and of all who come of German blood that the fatidical and the fantastic that has blacklisted them among the peoples of the world should be struck down.

Le Devoir continues to preach sedition without interference.

A straight tip to the ratepayers.
Alderman Clarke has decided to let the majority go by default, and to try and secure a majority of the aldermen by defeating Messrs. Ramsey, Picard, Calder, Frith and McArthur.

A spy is an accessory before the fact to wholesale slaughter, pillage, and the infliction of untold misery upon a whole community of people. He should be hanged when caught, whether in time of peace or of war—especially in time of peace.

Interest on our debentures amounts to fifty-five cents on the dollar of the tax levy. Supposing only one-third of the dollar is paid, in what happens? That is one of the problems next year's council will likely have to solve.
The need of putting big business men in the council is surely apparent.

The New Zealand Premier, congratulating the Australian fleet, said a few days ago: "Countries bordering on the Pacific should provide a fleet for these seas." Canada is the only Dominion with a Pacific seaboard that is not already doing its share. That thrust was meant for us, and we thoroughly deserve it.

The Minister of Militia has excused himself. A few days ago Lieut.-Col. Sissons, of Medicine Hat, arrived in Calgary, armed with a special commission from Ottawa to raise a regiment of Mounted Rifles. Lieut.-Col. Macdonald, of Calgary, also commissioned from Ottawa to raise the same regiment, had been on the point for a week when Lieut.-Col.
Sissons arrived. The latter established headquarters at the Palliser Hotel and announced his intention of raising the force, while Lieut.-Col. Macdonald went on raising it. So matters stood on Tuesday. How the affair will turn out will tell. How it should be clear enough. Premier Borden should gently but firmly tell General Sam Hughes to go into civic opera, and should put the Militia Department in charge of Col. Sam Sissons or some other officer capable of making it something better than a thing of ridicule to the public and of humiliation to the officers and men of the service.

Mr. Montgomery is to be congratulated on his splendid win at Wetaskiwin. The Government are also to be complimented on this new expression of public confidence. But if it is a victory for the Government it is also a distinct defeat for the Opposition.
Their candidate polled 25 per cent fewer votes than the opponent of Mr. Olin last year, though the party would have let it go by default "on account of the war." Presumably they said all they were prepared to say in criticism of the Government, and all they could think of on their own was half. If reports are correct they also had the usual assistance from homebased inspectors and other officials in the employ of the Dominion Government. Having challenged a verdict when they had a valid reason for not doing so, they must accept the most decisive verdict as a straight declaration of want of confidence.
If their particular object was to try out the farmer's views on the elevator question their curiosity should be satisfied for a while.

STEADY DEMAND FOR BRITISH WAR LOAN

London, Nov. 18. 11:55 a.m.—There has been a steady demand, both on particular bonds, on the central banks and on the prospectus of the new four per cent loan of 200,000,000 pounds sterling, of which 100,000,000 pounds will be sold at 102 and the balance at 101, on or before the 22nd inst.

STREET NUMBERING.
Editor Bulletin.

Mr.—It was urged last April, as a reason for voting in favor of the alternative system of street designations, that so much work, having already been done it should be tried out. After six months trial there is not increasing complaint and objections raised to it. People do not like it and will not adopt it.

The associated pleasure was not an accurate expression of public opinion.
In the first place, the vote was not properly restricted to property owners, and in the second place the ballot was confusing. Many citizens preferred the retention, as nearly as possible, of the old system. As no minorities were only two-thirds of the instructions on the ballot read "Vote for." In consequence of this unfortunate phrasing, many placed an X opposite the first of all numerical schemes, in the belief that they were voting against it. Some were informed by returning officers that was the meaning of the instructions. The result, 12,000 for the numerical and 1,471 for the (Edmonton) was therefore unfair and inequitable.

As for the objections to the system in use, it is difficult to see how it is causing any harm. The harm in retaining names of streets and central streets established by the minds of hundreds of people who have visited Edmonton, many of whom invested capital here.

The use of numbers for houses in the town of thousands is satisfactory expose the city to ridicule, especially now when the most ostentatious are forced to conform are obtaining far too much publicity in the way of business, vice, assessments, taxes, per-capita debt, etc.

"Yes" or "No" to the following question: "Are you going to vote in the municipal system of designating streets, giving large numbers in the city center?"

There is no need to insist in this negative decision of the public would not necessarily mean any material ex-posure to the community. The importance of ascertaining the wishes of the 20,000 voters now is simply demonstrated by the dissatisfaction expressed throughout the city. A

THREE FINE ATHLETES ENLIST FOR WAR

Amateur athletic circles in Edmonton, already badly depleted through the demands of the European war, suffered another loss this week when three well-known Edmontonians enlisted for service with the second Canadian contingent. Sid Bradford, noted right for the Sons of England F.C., considered one of the best of the last season, went with the troops of 100 to Quebec. Bradford is an old campaigner, having served for nine years with the Border regiment. He also learned his football while a soldier, his regimental team, of which he was a member, winning the amateur championship of Wales. Stan, Joe of the Sons of England International has joined the Saskatchewan Light Horse, as have several more of the same team. Swimming circles will suffer by the loss of Victor Ockenden, amateur champion of Alberta, who left for Calgary on Tuesday evening. Ockenden just barely reached the required age, his 18th birthday having occurred a few weeks ago.
